VOL. XXIX.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1902. 3 P. M.

NO. 103

We call your attention to the Buffalo Oil Co., which owns oil, gas and mineral leases on lands in Kentucky in the counties of Jackson, Knox and Lincoln, all of which is proven oil territory.

Our Jackson county land is in an undeveloped coal and oil region, and oil has been found in many places in Jackson county. This county is situated directly between the Bath oil fields on the north and the Knox county fields on the south.

Our Knox county lands are situated in the vicinity of the great oil gushers and the prolific oil regions of Knox county. In this territory many companies are now operating and a great rush is being made to and for that territory.

Our Lincoln county lands are in the oil and gas belt, where oil has been found in many places but the territory not developed. A large portion of this field is within the 45th degree, or the Pennsylvania oil line, and is north of the Wayne county field and on the line between the Wayne and Bath fields.

If you will take a map and place one end of a ruler on the Bath county fields and the other on the Wayne county, the line will pass through some of our choicest territory. It is the intention of the Company to drill in each of the three counties and for this purpose a limited amount of the stock will be offered for sale. The oil industry returns the largest known dividends and some idea can be obtained as to the desirability of this stock when you recall the fact that less than six months ago oil stock in one of the Wayne county companies had few buyers at $10 per share, while to-day this stock is worth $3,000 per share. This picture is not overdrawn, as they are facts known to exist.

Capital Stock, $20,000. HEADQUARTERS, PIERRE, S. D. BRANCH OFFICE, STANFORD, KY.

Officers: A. B. FLORENCE, Mayor of Stanford, Ky., President; GEO. M. DAVISON, Ex-Congressman, Vice-Pres.; L. R. HUGHES, Attorney-at-Law, Sec. & Treas. Directors: J. E. Evans, Pierre, S. D.; H. J. Darst, Rowland, Ky.; J. N. Menefee, G. M. Davison, A. B. Florence and L. R. Hughes, all of Stanford, Ky.

Kentucky bids fair to equal with her oil fields those of Pennsylvania, where so many immense fortunes have been made. Now is the time to get in on the "ground floor" of this great development of Kentucky's oil fields.

The right time to invest is when a company first launches its stock on the market, and you are then getting in on the ground floor and get all the advance of the stock. The Buffalo Oil Co. gives you the "ground floor."

Our leases cover 5,000 acres in the above named counties, and our territory cannot be excelled. It is equal to any of the undeveloped territory where fortunes are now being made daily by sinking paying wells. Our capital stock is $20,000, in shares of $1 each, non-assessable, and sold only at par. Our capital stock is small and the shares are not sold for speculative purposes, but for the purpose of getting money to develop our property and sink wells, and EVERY dollar will be spent in development, and if we succeed our profits will not be divided by long divisions, as would be the case if our capital stock was large and sold in large quantities at a great per cent. below par. This is your chance to get in on the "ground floor."

A LIMITED AMOUNT of the stock is offered for sale at $1 per share, non-assessable. If it is all taken before your money is received same will be returned to you. Address,

Buffalo Oil Co., Stanford, Ky.

P. S.—For the standing and financial ability of the officers reference is given to the President of the Lincoln County National Bank or First National Bank, of Stanford, Kentucky.

"Heart's Content," Feb. 27th.

Seventy years old today! Nothing to pester me! Nothing to do! No wife! No child! No trifling son-in-law! No disease! No cure! No money! Out of debt! Lots of true friends everywhere I have been! What old man wouldn't be happy?

"Kings only be blest, but Jack is glorious."

O'er the hills of life victorious!

Reared, almost from infancy, in a sweet home amid the charming old cliffs of Little Dix River, near Dudderar's Mill, among a people proverbial for honesty and hospitality. A peace and plenty, rarely equalled. Never excelled! A long life of 70 years; that the sun has just set upon, leaving a clear, full, beautiful twilight in view. Looks now like that twilight may reach away up on a bright and cloudless sky, making the real sunshine, that ceases to beam on all our lives at 70, even more brilliant. Did you ever see a soft, clear, evening twilight that reached far upon the sky nearly to where we see the sun at mid day? What a lovely addition to our sunlight of three-score years and ten! Can you imagine such a prospect? Beautiful! Beautiful! I would love to live up to four-score years and see the glories of the days dawn that I really believe is just upon us! But somebody whispers: "Don't be too greedy! You have already had a good time. Seen the elephant. Had lots of fun. The show is over. You must now go home my son!"

But why should I not love to live longer? I am pretty well fixed. All out of doors for a bed room. All earth's face for a bed! The clouds for cover! Looks like a fellow wouldn't get crowded. Would get lonesome! Don't you believe it! I don't sleep by myself! Lots of company in that room, on that bed, under that cover these cold nights! The "refined and beautiful young lady of culture and wealth," ruined and robbed one night, "after the bail was over," of her character and charms, by an "accomplished, polite and polished gentleman," whose own sister was at that ball! The heart-broken and homeless and reckless tramp! Decrepit and penniless and tottering old age! Many worthy but discouraged men and women of middle age! Little bits of orphans! Sometimes the dear "Balmies" shiver and cry so piteously with cold and hunger that you can't help getting up to see what ails them. Lots of company in that bed!

I am not a preacher, but let me tell you! He who died to redeem ALL men! considered Himself in good company when He stopped with us out-door folks some years ago. We didn't send Him to the "next house." He promised to come back some day. We won't get out of heart. "There is a Divinity that shapes our ends," even though the hewing is rough. We won't get out of heart! The pine knots are not all burned up! The manna always has fallen. There are a few quails left. Every now and then some fellow pokes a bottle of "soothing syrup" under the cover. Almost equals those new clothes, finger ring, fat calf and dance! Did you ever try a bottle of that syrup? I got one once; had a great big label on it, filled with doses, worth a dollar a dose! Hadn't felt so good since I was at the last camp meeting. Got up in church and sung!

"When you ain't got a cent And feel a little blue And the clouds hang low and heavy, And won't let the sunshine through; It's a fine thing, Oh my brethren, For a fellow just to lay His hand upon your shoulder In a friendly sort of way." And I sat right down and wrote to Mr.

James Whitcomb Riley that I would come and try to sing the other two verses for him as sweetly as Mrs. Dr. Mays can sing "Kathleen Mavourneen" if he would send me two more bottles of the same "stuff." Do you reckon he will send them? They would give me a backbone like railroad iron.

But there is a good time coming. This breaking out on this man Carnegie that they call "charity" is "ketchin' it." It is rather a new disease, but there has always been a little of it about in spots and it will spread and become epidemic. Don't think it won't. Men like Wanamaker will take it some day. He has a heap more clothes than he and his boys can wear out. Old man Spreckles will have some sweetening to spare maybe, and then all us out door folks will "take sugar in ours." After enough big schools get started for the big folks, little schools will be dotted all about over our fair land, and laws will be artistically laid out around them, beautiful, and adorned with the richest, rarest and sweetest of roses, all for the little folks.

This looks pretty grand, but the day is coming when lovely homes will be prepared for the humble and the needy and they will no longer be driven thro' hard, hard, HARD necessity to visit other people's chicken coops, bee stands, smoke houses and corn cribs, and their little children will know nearly enough geography to find their way to the new Baptist church in Danville. There is a good time coming. This old world we are living in

Is mighty hard to beat, It has a thorn on every rose But ain't the roses sweet? There is a good time coming. Let us thank God from Whom all blessings flow. Health and happiness, peace and plenty, hope and home.

"HAPPY JACK."

A Voice From Heaven.

The first of our "Stanford True-hearts" transplanted to fairer lands; hence this little poem, hoping it may comfort the many friends and school-mates of dear little Sara Arnold, who loved her so much:

I shine in the light of God, His likeness stamps my brow, Through the showings of death my feet have trod And I reign in glory now.

No breaking heart is here, No keen and thrilling pain, No wasted cheek, where the frequent tear Hath rolled and left its stain.

I have found the joy of heaven, I am one of the angel band, To my head a crown of gold is given, And a harp is in my hand.

I have learned the song they sing, Whom Jesus hath set free, And the glorious walls of heaven shall ring.

With my new born melody, No sin, no grief, no pain, Safe in my happy home, My fears all fled, my doubts all slain, My hour of triumph come.

Oh! friends of mortal years, The trusted and the true, Ye are waiting still in the vale of tears, But I wait to welcome you.

Do I forget? Oh, no! For memory's golden chain Shall bind my heart to the hearts below, Till they meet and touch again.

Each link is strong and bright, And love's electric flame Flows freely down like a river of light, To the world from which I came.

Do you mourn when another star Shines out from the glittering sky? Do you weep when the raging voice of war And the storms of conflict die?

Then why should your tears run down, And your heart be so sorely riven, For another gem in the Savior's crown, And another soul in heaven.

KINGSVILLE.

Mrs. W. R. Cundiff spent a pleasant week with her parents in Lexington. Dr. B. G. Allen and wife, of Somerset, came up Sunday to spend a few days with her mother.

Harve Watts, blacksmith, came very near losing one of his eyes a few days since while working in his shop.

W. L. McCarty is contracting for tomatoes for the canning factory, which he intends to run the coming season.

Born, on the 17th to Mr. and Mrs. John Privitt, a son. Born, to Mr. and Mrs. David Burton, on the 16th, a son. The "Law and Order League" will meet at the Christian church this evening instead of the usual prayer meeting.

Thomas Paine authorizes us to announce that his marriage will occur on the 12th of March in honor of his 23rd birthday.

Dr. C. M. Thompson has had no trouble in filling his large ice house this winter, which we can better appreciate next summer.

Marion Williams, who was seriously injured by being struck by a train, is slowly improving. Mr. Wright and family, of the "suburbs," have moved into C. G. Baker's store-room.

Mr. McWhorter, a handsome widower of near this place, offers $4,000 and a horse and buggy to any attractive lady who will become his wife. Just what "attractions" are required we have not been informed.

Our town is almost depopulated. Doctors, lawyers, merchants, station agents, clerks, farmers and druggists having all been summoned to appear before circuit court at Stanford. It speaks well for our lively facilities that every one found a way to go. It is not necessary to state that there is "nothing doing" just now. No great rush at the stores, an occasional drummer makes his appearance and with a look of consternation asks "what's the matter with Kingsville, where are the people?" We hope the present state of affairs will not continue, there's too much danger from kidnappers while so many women and children remain unprotected.

BILIOUS COLIC.

H. Seever, a carpenter and builder of Kenton, Tenn., when suffering intensely from an attack of bilious colic, sent to a nearby drug store for something to relieve him. The druggist sent him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, three doses of which effected a permanent cure. This is the only remedy that can be depended upon in the most severe cases of colic and cholera morbus. Most druggists know this and recommend it when such a medicine is called for. For sale by Craig & Hocker, druggists.

The man who composed "Home, Sweet Home" never had a home. The man who composed "On the Banks of the Wabash" never had a bank. The man who composed "My Bark is on the Sea" never had a dog. The man who composed "Tramp! Tramp!" never owned a tomato can. The man who composed "Only One Girl" is married and has a breach of promise suit on his hands. The man who composed "Goo-Goo Eyes" is dead.—Bourbon News.

SHE RECOMMENDS CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a number of years and have no hesitancy in saying that it is the best remedy for coughs, colds and croup I have ever used in my family. I have no words to express my confidence in this remedy.—Mrs. J. A. Moore, North Star, Mich. For sale by Craig & Hocker, druggists.

A pet dog saved the life of "Aunt" Scotty Loving, an old Negro woman, at Bowling Green. By his constant barking he attracted the attention of the neighbors, who ran in and saved her from burning to death.

To avoid going to jail on a charge of embezzlement, Ernest Wedekind, a lawyer at Chicago, shot himself to death.

LANCASTER.

The public square has just received a thorough and much-needed cleaning.

W. T. West sold to Thomas Yantis a farm, containing 198 acres, at $21.66 per acre.

A crusher is to be bought by the town and county to be used on the public roads.

W. B. Burton bought the noted trotter, Clay King, at the Lexington sales, paying about $1,400.

Miss Gail Laughlin, an attorney of New York City, lectured last night at the court-house on Woman's Rights.

A reading room has been established by seven young men of this city and will be located in the 3rd story of the Citizens' Bank building.

W. C. Greening, of Hustonville, was here Monday and made a contract to burn the brick for the Presbyterian parsonage. He will construct a kiln as soon as the weather permits.

Kinnaird Bourne sold a horse for $65. J. C. Fox bought a bunch of fat hogs at 5 15 and a cow for $21. W. B. Burton bought a good horse of J. C. Boner for $100. Stephen Walker bought a pair of work mules for $100.

Miss Christine Bradley is at home again, after a visit to Miss Emily Chenault, of Richmond. Miss Eliza Smith has returned from a visit to Lexington. Miss Louise Kauffman is at home again after several weeks' illness in Hustonville.

Miss Marie Joseph will entertain the Junior Social Club this evening. Mrs. George T. Farris and daughter, Miss Louise, will be joined by Senator Farris at Louisville Saturday for a family reunion of the Senator's brothers and sisters.

Miss Mary Thompson has been chosen delegate to the State Christian Endeavor Convention, which meets in Cynthiana, May 2, 3 and 4. Miss Thompson is the efficient president of the Lancaster endeavor organization and will ably represent her society by reading an address at the State convention.

Mrs. Susan Fisher is suffering from a broken arm caused by a fall on the ice. Mr. Hamlet Brown has been quite ill. George Moran, a capable Negro brick-mason, was considerably injured by slipping on the ice and striking his head. Mr. Samuel Johnson is reported ill at his suburban home on Richmond Avenue.

A paper was circulated here Wednesday containing signatures to a petition addressed to the representative from this Senatorial district, Hon. George T. Farris, requesting him to use his vote and influence for the measure requiring the removal of the State Capital. The signers designated Lexington as their preference.

Garrard people must have more than their share of mechanical genius, as a number are already reaping financial rewards from their inventions, and others are awaiting the tests of ably-constructed models. J. B. Sanders, of the McCreey section, has just completed a design for a hemp-brake and he claims it will revolutionize work of that kind.

The Christian church at McCreey has secured the services of Elder A. R. Moore, of this city, for two Sunday afternoons in each month—the 2d and 4th. As he preaches for the Hubbell church the 1st and 3rd afternoons and fills his appointments Sunday mornings and evenings for the Lancaster membership, it is very evident that Mr. Moore is an efficient and tireless laborer in his Master's vineyard.

Mrs. Eliza J. Wallace, of the Paint Lick section, celebrated her 89th birthday on last Monday by a sumptuous dining and a reunion of her family. She is the mother of eight children, having only one dead, Mrs. Parks, and the remaining seven are reunited every year around her hospitable board and are as follows: O. T. William, Henry, Salem, Mesdames Wm. Anderson, of Madison, Bettie Francis, of Paint Lick, and Joseph S. Robinson, of this city.

When you lack energy, do not relish your food, feel dull and stupid after eating, all you need is a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets. They will make you feel like a new man and give you an appetite like a bear. For sale by Craig & Hocker, druggists.

E. C. WALTON.

W. P. WALTON.

Is a Candidate for Railroad Commissioner for the 2d District, subject to the will of the democracy.

DEMOCRACY, what it is and what it stands for, is clearly and concisely told in the following lines: Equal and exact justice to all men, commerce and honest friendship with all nations, entangling alliances with none; the support of the State governments in all their rights; the preservation of the general government in its constitutional vigor; a jealous care of the right of election by the people; absolute acquiescence in the decisions in the majority; a well disciplined militia; the supremacy of the civil over the military; economy in the public expense; the honest payment of our debts and sacred preservation of the public faith; encouragement of agriculture and of commerce as its handmaid; the diffusion of information and arraignment of all abuses at the bar of public reason; freedom of religion; freedom of the press; freedom of person under the protection of the habeas corpus; trial by juries impartially selected—these principles should be the creed our political faith.

ECHOES of the Tillman-McLaurin fight in the Senate Saturday are still reverberating. The latest is from Augusta, Ga., where Lieut. Gov. James H. Tillman, a kinsman of the Senator, made public the text of a telegram he had sent President Roosevelt, withdrawing an invitation accepted by the latter to present a sword to Maj. Micah Jenkins, of the First United States Volunteer Cavalry. The sword was purchased by subscription. Lt. Gov. Tillman explained that he withdrew the invitation at the suggestion of subscribers to the sword fund, who regarded as unwarranted the president's alleged "affront" in recalling Senator Tillman's invitation to the Prince Henry dinner.

THE Lexington Democrat is moved to remark: "A new locomotive headlight invented by a Chicago man is said to penetrate darkness to the extent of 10 miles. That headlight might be used to discover what claim to democracy certain so-called democrats of Lexington have, who wear its livery the better to serve the republican party." Lexington is not the only place where such creatures are to be found. Lincoln county has her full quota, the more's the pity, but they will all be found out some day and put in the class they so love to train with.

SINCE the fistcuff of Tillman and McLaurin a bill has been offered in the U. S. Senate to establish a department of physical culture. The measure provides that the head of the new department shall have a seat in the cabinet. The duties of the secretary of the department and his subordinates are to be in direction of extending physical culture throughout the country, and doubtless to be charged with the power to put a Senator through a course before permitting him to take his seat.

THE names of Tillman and McLaurin were restored to the roll of the Senate by Senator Frye, president pro tem, the order of the presiding officer having been the result of a conference among republican leaders. Mr. Frye explained that his action was intended to shift responsibility from the chair to the Senate. Can it be possible that South Carolina's fighting Senators scared the president of that august body into taking back his first resolve, which was probably made in haste?

A DISPATCH says that Hon. William B. Bryan will soon pledge to David B. Hill his support for president. While we are talking about presidential timber, what's the matter with Hill and Bryan for 1904? One from the East, the other from the West, they would carry everything before them, while the glorious old South would give the biggest democratic majority ever heard of.

A MORAL wave has struck Middleboro. All blind singers have been ordered shut down if it is necessary to tear the houses down, dancing halls have been closed and women are forbidden to congregate at saloons. Let the good work continue and the ex-magic city may yet awaken from her Rip Van Winkle sleep and be something again.

AN Evansville, Ind., woman was so overjoyed over the arrival of a boy at her son's house that she fell dead. Had twins put in appearance the whole family would have likely crossed the dark river.

CHARLES A. DAILEY, telegraph editor of the Courier Journal and an all round newspaper man, has acquired an interest in the Owensboro Messenger and will be that paper's managing editor.

Mrs. Mary Harrington Hanna, the divorced wife of Dan R. Hanna, son of Senator Mark Hanna, will be active in the local political campaign, and will take the stump in opposition to her former father-in-law.

BOOKER made Teddy another visit the other day, but the two cronies didn't have anything to eat this time.

POLITICAL.

The State Senate unanimously passed the Anti-Trust bill. The Maryland Legislature voted down a separate coach bill. The House at Frankfort passed the Farris "Blind Tiger" bill, which now goes to the governor.

Deboe and Yerkes have endorsed J. A. Tomlinson for reappointment as postmaster at Harrodsburg.

The State Senate passed the bill appropriating $100,000 for a Kentucky exhibit at the St. Louis World's Fair.

The House adopted a resolution asking the Houses of Reform Commissioners to request the resignation of Superintendent Doak.

The governor sent to the Legislature a message urging the passage of a bill providing a system of uniform and cheap school books.

The people of Anderson county are much stirred up over the proposition to place that county and Spencer in one representative district.

As a result of the telegram from Lt. Gov. Tillman, of South Carolina, it is believed the president will refuse to attend the Charleston Exposition.

In their Lincoln birthday editorials the administration organs were careful not to quote from any of Lincoln's speeches or writings—Bryan's Commemoration.

The president decided to appoint former Congressman McChord Marshall, of Arizona, in place of Benjamin Daniels, the ex-convict, whose commission was recently revoked.

Tillman was not permitted to cross his legs under the president's mahogany at the reception to Prince Henry, but he has the consolation that he didn't eat where a Negro had "et"—Lex Democrat.

Senator Frye, President pro tem, announced upon convening the Senate yesterday that he had received a letter from Senator Tillman asking to be heard on a question of highest privilege. He intimated that the request might be entertained.

Writing from Frankfort to his home paper, the Glasgow Times, ex-Legislator J. M. Richardson makes the following observation wise and confession good for the soul:

"The greatest work of many a Legislature is what is prevented from being done. If these facts were known and the public understood them thoroughly, criticism would be to a large extent disarmed and praise would take the place of unrelenting censure. My recollection is that I introduced 20 bills when I was in the Legislature. Three of them, after being amended until I didn't know my own offspring, became laws. At that time I was confident that the laws of Kentucky were fatally defective in the absence of the other 17, but, after six years' reflection, I am ready to confess that the Legislature had more sense than I had when it knocked them in the head in the committee room."

The German Emperor's yacht, Meteor, was successfully launched at Shooter's Island in the presence of President Roosevelt, Prince Henry and a great crowd. Miss Alice Roosevelt christened the yacht. Before the luncheon which followed on the Hohenzollern the Prince presented to Miss Roosevelt the Emperor's gift, a gold bracelet with the Emperor's portrait in diamonds.

This horrible story is sent from Norfolk, Va.: Joe Smith bought a large flask of corn whiskey and made a wager with his sister-in-law, Ella Best, 15, that he could drink more of the whiskey than she. The girl drank it all and was found next morning dead in bed. Smith's wife gave him $20 to buy a coffin for the dead girl, and he left with the money, since which time nothing has been heard of him.

MATRIMONIAL.

A Richmond dispatch says: Quite a surprise was given their friends here when it was learned that Z. T. Rice, a prominent merchant, and Miss Amy Davidson, a Lancaster belle, had been married at 3 o'clock in the morning.

C. T. Sandidge, the popular horseman, and Miss Susie Sandidge, the pretty daughter of Mrs. Weaver Dunn, of the Millidgeville section, drove to Crab Orchard yesterday afternoon and were married at the Goyer Hotel by Elder J. G. Livingston.

This pretty story is sent from Williamsburg: The marriage of Mr. Winfred Munson to Miss Cora Hensley was an event that was tinged with romance. When the Spanish-American war broke out Munson enlisted in the service of Uncle Sam. In the famous charge up San Juan Hill this robust son of Grant was in the thick of the fight, and fell, his lung being pierced by a Mauser bullet. For 24 hours he lay where he had fallen and was finally picked up unconscious by an ambulance. Army surgeons soon revived him, however, and by careful nursing and skilled medical attention he was in due time restored to health. He then hurried home to claim the heart and hand of the girl he had left behind him.

W. J. Brown, a prominent young lawyer of Somerset, and Miss Cora M. Jones, also of that place, but well-known here, were married at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. T. Harris, at 6 o'clock yesterday evening. Elder Jos Ballou, who has known both of the young people from their infancy, performed the ceremony. The bride, who is a lovely young lady, was attired in a suit of gray and her beauty never showed to a better advantage. A splendid dinner followed the marriage, to which a number of friends of the contracting parties were invited. Mr. and Mrs. Brown drove to McKinney this morning and took the train for their home, where Mr. Brown is counsel in a big law suit. THE INTERIOR JOURNAL, which claims both of the young people as its friends, extends the glad hand on this very happy occasion to their lives.

A. O. U. W.—There will be work in both the Junior and Workman degrees Monday night, March 3, and all members are earnestly requested to be present. J. F. Engleman, M. W.

THOSE who have paid no attention to our frequent statements may not be surprised to find their accounts in the hands of our attorney after next Saturday, March 1. E. C. Walton.

If you have property to sell, rent or exchange let the Central Kentucky Real Estate Exchange & Title Co., of Stanford, know about it. The company will do the rest. No trade; no pay.

C. L. PRUITT, of Hustonville, has bought the stock of goods lately owned by G. S. Durham & Co., of Middleburg. He is undecided as to whether he will continue a store at that place or move the goods to some other town.

CLOYD.—David Cloyd, aged 75, died at Rowland, at an early hour yesterday morning of pneumonia and was buried at McCormack's church to day. His wife died some six months ago, but three children are left behind.

SALES.—Ashby Arnold will have a sale of his farm, stock, etc., at his home on the Lexington pike near Lancaster Saturday, March 8. Charley Klein will dispose of his stock, crop and household goods near Crab Orchard the same day.

CURTIS.—John Curtis, son of Mr. Monroe Curtis, and brother of Mr. William Curtis, died at Springfield, Ill., a few days since of smallpox and was buried there. He was close to 50 years old and left three children nearly grown. He was a good citizen and had many friends in this county who will regret to hear of his death.

ADHERED.—Messrs. Geo. W. Smith and Daniel Reynolds, of Wallacetown, were here Wednesday returning from McKinney, where they went to have the mad stone belonging to Mrs. Anne Dudderar applied to a wound on the latter made by a mad dog. It adhered and both gentlemen went home feeling better. Mr. Smith's dog bit Mr. Reynolds and he brought him to the stone.

GEORGE PULLIAM, who admired the old gentleman greatly, tells us that an immense crowd attended the funeral of Dr. George Hunn at his late home at Shelby City Wednesday and followed the remains to the Hustonville Cemetery. Dr. E. M. Greene, of Danville, preached a beautiful sermon and there was hardly a dry eye in the large gathering when he concluded. "The poor of my section have lost their very best friend," said Mr. Pulliam as he spoke touchingly of his dead neighbor.

MESSRS. GOODING AND CLAY, of the Central Oil, Gas & Mining Co., of Lexington, are here looking for more leases around Stanford, where they are sure oil will be found in paying quantities. Tools are on the ground on Sheriff Baughman's farm and boring will begin as soon as the lumber for making the derrick is sawed and delivered. Persons wishing to lease their property will call on the above gentlemen at the St. Asaph Hotel at once. They have bored only two wells, which are in Bath county, and they are both producers.

THE announcement of the Grand Leader Dry Goods Co. appears elsewhere in this issue. The room formerly occupied by the Louisville Store is their place of business and an immense stock of goods is being unpacked preparatory to their opening, which will be in a very few days. Mr. S. B. Levy, an experienced business man and a very pleasant gentleman, will be in charge and he promises to give the people of Lincoln and adjoining counties some rare bargains. He will be assisted by his sister, Mrs. Abrams, and a number of salesmen. Keep your eye on their space each issue.

OUR representative, Hon. M. F. North, and E. H. Doak, superintendent of the Houses of Reform, had a war of words on the floor of the House at Frankfort Wednesday. A dispatch from there says that when Mr. Doak took the floor Mr. North asked him if he did not tell him that he had a boy in the institution whose mother had sent him out to steal that he might get into the Reform School. "I did not, sir," answered Doak. "You did sir," responded Mr. North, jumping to his feet. "I repeat sir, that I told you nothing of the kind," said the superintendent. It looked for a few moments as if the men would get together.

OLD newspapers for sale. This office.

ROOMS for rent over Higgins & McKinney's store.

COLLARS, harness, trace chains, back bands, wagon harness pads, etc. J. C. McClary.

FARMERS.—Stock what coal you need before you get busy with your plowing. J. H. Baughman & Co.

FOR rent or sale, the house vacated by E. C. Walton. Good stable and garden. Apply at this office.

GOOD RECORD.—Tom Best, who is on the grand jury this term, has a clean record. He has never sued a fellow-man nor been sued, was never a witness in court, was never before the grand jury but once and laid in jail four days then rather than tell on a friend, has never scratched a democratic ticket and last, but not least, he has never failed to do a kindness when it was in his power. He did not tell us the latter, but we are well enough acquainted with him to say it and know whereof we speak.

CUMMINS.—Mr. Flem Cummins, aged 89, died at his home at Preachersville yesterday of a general giving away. He was a grandfather of our townsman, James F. Cummins, and was a substantial citizen. A wife, who was his third, and five children survive. They are Messrs. H. G. and W. H. Cummins and Mrs. Harriet Foley, of the East End, Mrs. Margaret Anderson, of Texas, and Mrs. Addie Cummins, of Kansas City. Mr. Cummins had been in very feeble health for years and had been bedfast for over a month. The burial will occur at Preachersville at 2 o'clock this afternoon and the Masons will conduct the services.

THE Advocate has this to say about Lincoln fiddlers who took part in the contest at Danville: "Samuel Bishop, of Turnersville, was awarded second prize on 'Gib There Eli' and 'Gallagher's Dead.' Mr. Bishop is a violinist of no ordinary talents and was heartily applauded. The violin upon which he performed has a history running through a period of 200 years. It is the property of Mr. Cloyd Johnstone, of Hustonville, and is probably worth $500. The tone was pronounced the finest heard at the contest. Armp Dawson, of Dawson's Dam, won fourth prize with a beautiful rendition of 'I've Got a Little Home to Go To,' and the 'Ladies Favorite.' Alex Martin, of Stanford, was the oldest fiddler in the bunch. He rendered in charming style a selection of his own composition entitled 'The Desertion of Stanford, or the March to Danville.' The title of the piece brought a round of applause and the fifth prize to its author."

CIRCUIT COURT.—The wheels of justice are still grinding at the court-house and a number of smaller cases have been disposed of since our last report. Steve Drye was fined $25 and costs for assault. Clay Snow for breach of the peace, was acquitted, William Thompson fined $20 for selling liquor, James Kennedy fined $50 for shooting at John Payne, A. Zebenecker $25 for trespass, Dan Hester fined $130 for selling whisky and acquitted in four cases, Thomas Price fined $25 and given 10 days in jail for carrying concealed weapons, John Dayton acquitted of assault, Dr. Marlon Thompson acquitted in 10 cases of selling whisky, John Tankersley, Sr., acquitted of shooting with intent to kill. The case of Joe and Tom Leasure, charged with rape, has occupied much of the court's time. Wm Clymer and Bob Wilson, who are serving terms at Frankfort for a similar offense, were brought here by Guard Bailey and they testified in the case. The Leasures are represented by Hon. R. C. Warren, Ashby Warren and W. S. Burch. The Commonwealth's Attorney is assisted by County Attorney Helm. Messrs. Warren and son spoke in the case this morning and Commonwealth's Attorney Owsley is speaking as we go to press.

The murder case of Alfred Bright has been continued until the next term of court. Hiram Grant, who shot Charley Likens, from the effects of which he died, has been indicted for murder and his trial set for Tuesday next.

The grand jury is doing good work. It will adjourn this afternoon to one or more days next week.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

J. D. Shelby has been elected police judge of Junction City.

James H. Brand, aged 58, is dead of pneumonia at Junction City.

Officers tore down the "blind tiger" buildings around Middlesboro.

John M. Linney, who was the father of 26 children, died at Danville.

L. L. Jigg has been appointed postmaster at Alum, Pulaski county.

W. A. Tribble sold to R. B. Wilkinson a lot of 150-pound hogs at 5c.

J. K. Baughman, of Hustonville, sold to Montie Fox a couple of mules for.

'Squire J. N. Douglas, one of the best known men in Madison county, is dead.

Jonas Well bought of Clarence Lebus, of Cynthiana, 40 1,300-pound cattle, at 54c.

J. L. Hutchins sold J. C. Fox 11 fat hogs at $5.15, 35 barrels of corn at $3.15 and 80 shocks of fodder at 15c.—Record.

Bessie Goode, of Boyle, is nearly four years old and weighs only 22 pounds.

A. J. Hayden has bought the Burnside farm near Point Leavel, Garrard county, at $50. It contains 150 acres.

Alonzo Baker, charged with being one of Lee Turner's men in the famous "Quarter House" battle, was discharged at Pineville.

The oil from the well on the Wage farm, in Knox county, has overflowed into Richland creek and that stream came very near burning up.

Ed Garrard, of Manchester, shot and seriously wounded Dave Woods. Gov. Beckham recently pardoned both men before trial on an indictment charging the murder of William Holland, the governor believing that their trial might result in the renewal of the Clay county feud.

Dr. James H. Moore, of Harrodsburg, has an individual claim against Uncle Sam for $250,000 for property seized, confiscated and destroyed during the war. He lost 1,100 bales of cotton, 32 work mules, 75 cattle, 75 hogs and had all the buildings on his large plantation in the South destroyed—Democrat.

FOR STOMACH TROUBLES.

"I have taken a great many different medicines for stomach trouble and constipation," says Mrs. S. Geiger, of Dunkerton, Iowa, "but never had as good results from any as Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets." For sale by Craig & Hocker, druggists.

No Credit, No Debts.

Success for all. Farmers, after a year's work I have the roads completed to every house for miles around, making W. P. Bradshaw's grocery store at Turnersville the union depot for all trains from 6 a. m. until 8 p. m. So board your trains and bring your butter in any quantity and receive 12c cash or 15c in goods. But bear in mind these trains will be run on the same principle all other trains are run on—you must pay for your ticket before you board the train—so the goods must be paid for before leaving the house. Do not fail to watch from time to time my prices on butter.

W. P. BRADSHAW, Turnersville, Ky.

"GLENBURNIE" FOR SALE.

"Glenburnie" is one of the finest farms in Lincoln county, the home of the late Sanford Erwin. It embraces 229 1/4 acres and is located on the Danville and Stanford pike, 6 miles from Danville, 4 1/2 miles from Stanford and 1 1/2 miles from Given's Station on the L. & N. railroad. This farm is beautifully located, splendidly watered and consists of the best quality of black walnut soil. Sixty-five acres are in cultivation and the rest is well set in blue grass. There is a good residence on this farm, with servant's house, carriage house, ice house, 3 barns and a large orchard. The farm is well fenced, thus making it a most desirable home. For terms apply to Mrs. L. L. Erwin, Danville, Ky.

HORSES and MULES WANTED.

We will be in STANFORD SATURDAY, MARCH 1st, to buy and ship one car-load of thin Horses, 3 to 5 years old, and one car of Mules, 2 to 6 years old.
